Baseline Survey

On 17-18 June 2024, LACPS (an Ant-Cancer) Project implemented the baseline survey in Mandalay Capital, using Patheingyi (Thamashik Province) with a total of 60 participants, 30 in person and 30 online. These data were obtained from the participation of various parties, especially provincial government partners, citizen journalists, filmmakers, and vloggers by using all three parts of the questionnaire created from the KDOO Toolkit:

The data collection helped the project to determine the scope of the project's priorities, to understand the impact of the project, to be able to record important indicators, as preliminary information to monitor and evaluate the progress and effectiveness during the implementation and end of the project.

Celebrate the 70th Anniversary of Lao Media Day

In 1 August 2024, CMC Laos and the GURCs Project participated in the celebration of the 70th Anniversary of Lao Media Day on the topic of "Artificial Intelligence (AI) and challenges for Lao Media," hosted by the Lao Journalist Association (LJA) in Vientiane Capital along with over 300 people both in person and online across the country. At the event, there was a discussion on the topic of "Using Artificial Intelligence (AI) to help the media: The use of Artificial Intelligence (AI) in news and ethics, how to use the benefits and safety of using social media wisely and the importance of green sustainable development."

Therefore, to ensure Lao journalists are able to use new technology in digital media, the LJA, CMC Laos and GURCs Project have worked with many stakeholders, especially Lao journalists in enhancing their media knowledge gaps, improving digital literacy to increase awareness of gender and green development issues.
